Automatic Data Collection

When a visitor requests a page of information from a web site, information about the request is automatically stored in a log file. The information does not contain the visitor's name or e-mail address, since the visitor's browser does not provide this information to the web server. The Onondaga County Sheriff's Office analyzes these log files to learn about how visitors are using the content on the site. This information is used to allocate resources effectively and improve the content of our site.

Cookies

A cookie is simply a piece of data the browser stores and passes back to the web server with future requests. The cookie typically includes a customer ID or a session ID code that allows us to identify that certain transactions belong to the same customer session. Our cookies never include personal data and are never passed along to any other web sites.
